Sub :- Regularisation of Freedom Fighters Enclave, Neb Sarai, New Delhi which included in the list of 1071 Unauthorised Colonies Sl.No.181 being considered for regularization.

Respected Sir,

With reference to your acknowledgement receipt No.00459 dated 28.12.2004 regarding the above said subject. Again we are submitting 7 sets of the Application Proforma and all necessary details and documents with site plan addressed to the Addl. Secretary, Govt. of NCT of Delhi, Deptt. of Urban Devpt., Delhi for regularization of colonies.

We the residents of Freedom Fighters Enclave, Neb Sarai, New Delhi residing herein since 1989-90 settled on a sustained area of land and 70% of the residents are having ration cards, Votar Identity cards, electricity connections, House Tax payers etc. Most of them are economically weaker sections of the society. The residents of our Association has been approaching/representing to various Governmental authorities from time to time for the last more than seven years to consider our colony regularisation sympathetically (copies of some of such letters are enclosed herewith for your reference please).

Therefore, we the residents most humbly requested to your honour to kindly look into the matter of regularization of our colony sympathetically by issuing necessary favourable consideration so that the residents of our Association run their life smoothly.

Thanking you.

Yours faithfully,

Sub: One Day Workshop on Right to Information

As you are aware, Delhi was one of the first states to give its people the Right to Information. Encouraged by this success, the Union Government has enacted the Right to Information Act 2006 to provide this right to every citizen of India.

To sensitize the citizens about this right and to get the valuable suggestions for effective implementation of the Right to Information Act, a day long Bhagidari Workshop on Right to Information is being organized for the citizen groups on 3rd August, 2006 from 9 A.M to 5 P.M in Talkatora Indoor Stadium.

Your association has been short listed for this workshop. You are requested to give your confirmation for the same in writing and forward names of 2 representatives of your association who will attend this workshop. Your confirmation as per enclosed Performa should reach this office by 14th July 2006 till 5 P.M so that further arrangements could be finalized.

For any other relevant information for the above mentioned workshop, please contact the undersigned or SDM (HQ) at the telephone numbers 2953 5025, 2953 6773

Delhi, the capital of India, spread across 1483 sq km area over the western bank of the river Yamuna, one of the largest cities in India. It is surrounded on three sides by Haryana and to the east across the river Yamuna by Gurgaon and Faridkot. The city has long since been of great cultural, social and political importance to the nation. Delhi has emerged as the economic hub of India.

Delhi lies on seismic zone IV, a high risk category on a grade of II to V, a belt of the forest and a forested area. The region suffers mainly from two natural hazards, namely floods and earthquakes, both of which have a moderate frequency of occurrence although floods are more frequent. With more than 50% houses built pre-1960, there has been absolute laxity in enforcement of the seismic building codes. The building stock is highly vulnerable to earthquakes. Because of the alluvial cover of the Indo-Gangetic plain, even distant earthquakes are felt quite strongly. The state is prone to flooding from river Yamuna. The impact of floods is felt in many parts of Delhi due to backflow in drainage network. In addition, fire is a major concern for Delhi as fire incidents have risen steeply in the last couple of decades.

Delhi has grown as a mega city and is the national hub of the economic and socio-political activities. This has led to influx of temporary as well as permanent migration. In addition, the presence of VVIPs, international dignitaries and bilateral and multilateral organisations have made Delhi one of the high-security areas. The growing population of Delhi has led to unplanned construction and mushroom growth of slums and unauthorised colonies. Over the last couple of decades, Delhi has undergone massive urbanisation and major infrastructural development such as roads, flyovers, shopping complexes and the Metro rail network. These have contributed to the modernisation of the city infrastructure and at the same time added to its vulnerability vis-a-vis natural as well as man-made disasters.

Delhi is prone to multi-hazards that include natural disasters such as earthquake, fire, flood and drought and other disasters that include the usage of Nuclear, Biological and Chemical weapons, terrorist threats, human epidemic (dengue, plague) and genetically developed (SARS). The following are prominent hazards:

1. Earthquakes: In the recent past Delhi has received numbers of minor shakes. Delhi has also sustained earthquake damage in more recent times. For instance, Srivastava and Somayajulu (1966) mention of (a) Khurja earthquake (M6.7) of 10 October 1956 in which 23 persons were killed in Bulandshahr and some injured in Delhi; (b) M6.0 earthquake of 27 August 1960 near Delhi wherein about 50 persons in Delhi were injured; and (c) an earthquake near Moradabad on 15 August 1966 that killed 14 persons in Delhi. Tyengar (2000) also mentions about damage to one of the minarets of Delhi's Jama Masjid during the M4.0 earthquakes on 28 July 1994. Most recently, the 1999 Chamoli earthquake (M6.5) took place about 280 km from Delhi. Such a moderate earthquake does not normally cause damage at such large distance. And yet, several buildings in Delhi sustained non-structural damage possibly due to peculiar geological and geotechnical features of this area.
2. Fire: On an average Delhi experiences more than ten thousand fire incidences per year out of which mostly are due to electricity short circuits and carelessness. Every year the city experiences slum fires especially during the summer months. Recently, on the morning of 31 December 2004, a fire broke out in a residential area and led to a collapse of the multistoried building due to which about 15 fire officers trapped inside the building while rescuing the people. Three fire service men died in this incident.
3. Floods: Floods in Delhi are mainly due to monsoonal rains. The city has experienced four major floods in the past (1977/78/88/95) affecting large population/damaging crop and infrastructural losses in tune of Rs. 100 million.

The Government of National Capital Territory (NCT) of Delhi has an efficient system for responding to many man-made disasters through organizations such as the Delhi Fire Service and the Delhi Police. Recently in 2004, the Delhi Government has formulated an institutional mechanism to mainstream risk reduction initiatives in the city. The office of the Divisional Commissioner, Government of NCT of Delhi, coordinates the implementation of disaster management activities in the State and all the nine Districts with help of district administration and other stakeholders. At the state level, an apex body i.e. Delhi Disaster Management Authority (DMMA) under the chairmanship of the Lt. Governor of Delhi has been established. This apex body includes members such as the Chief Minister of Delhi, Ministers of the Delhi Government as well as Secretaries of various departments. At the district level, disaster management committees have been formed to coordinate various activities planned under the initiative. Response teams have been formed as per the Incident Command System (ICS) guidelines. The Delhi regional master plan document of Delhi-2021 has specific attention to disaster management and putting in place effective mechanism for implementation of the Delhi building bye laws, regulations for land use zoning, additional provisions in development control regulations for safety and additional provisions in building regulations/byelaws for structural safety.

The Municipal Corporation of Delhi (MCD) and the New Delhi Municipal Corporation (NDMC) are the local government in Delhi responsible for ensuring safeguard of people and enforcement of various regulations. The Delhi Development Authority (DDA) is responsible of planning and implementation of land use and civic amenities. These institutions work together with the response agencies such as fire, police, and health in emergencies for a coordinated response.

RATIONALE AND OBJECTIVES

Community disaster management plan or CDMP is a conscious effort of the Government of Delhi to prepare communities for dealing with natural and man-made disasters. It has been observed in the past time and again that members of a community are not only the first responder in any situation but are also the best placed human resource to recognize and anticipate their vulnerabilities and develop their own coping mechanisms against a disaster. It is imperative that any planning for multi hazard management should attempt down-to-earth approach to develop a culture of safety and security of its own people. Community Based Disaster Management (CBDM) Plan aims to raise awareness on multi hazards faced by people of a given area, and to encourage the community to assume a sense of responsibility to protect itself and to support public and institutional efforts geared towards disaster preparedness, management and mitigation.

This Community Based Disaster Management (CBDM) plan is to be prepared, practiced, and biannually updated by the local residents themselves under the leadership of Community Disaster Management Committee (CDMC), in order to make it worthwhile and fruitful in times of emergency.

COMMUNITY DISASTER MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE (CDMC)

By Community Disaster Management Committee we mean a group of socially active and responsible citizens representing a community who may or may not be a part of a registered Resident Welfare Association or any other predefined community structure, authorised by the district administration to undertake various disaster management related activities for their community. The principal functions of the committee are to coordinate the disaster management activities like preparedness, Planning, mitigation, relief, rehabilitation and documentation as well as implementing mock drills. This committee will coordinate Community Task Forces as well.

16. Ensure that dead bodies are registered and cremated after legal/religious formalities

DISASTER PSYCHOLOGY

Since all the task force members will be in constant contact with survivors it is important that they understand the distinct emotional phases that the survivors go through.

Stages	Characteristics
The Impact Phase	During this phase, survivors panic, they display emotional disturbances, and indulge in whatever they can to keep themselves and their families alive and safe.
The Inventory Phase (Immediately after a disaster)	Victims experience complete shock, survivors assess damage and try to locate other survivors. Survivors may protest to any kind of help given to them.
Rescue phase	Emergency rescue services and task groups arrive on the scene and survivors are willing to take their directions without protest. They trust that the rescuers will help to address their needs so that they can get their lives together quickly.
Recovery Phase	Survivors feel that rescue and relief efforts are not proceeding quickly enough and this coupled with a sense of frustration with insurance and compensation claims aggravates stress levels. Frustration may be directed towards task group members.

In post-disaster scenario as people pick up the pieces of their lives shattered by calamity they may experience the following psychological and physiological conditions.

Psychological	Physiological
Fear of recurrence	Loss of appetite
Frustration	Headaches
Self-blame and blame towards others	Stomach cramps and diarrhoea
Feeling overwhelmed	Hyperactivity
Sadness and grief	Increase in alcohol or drug consumption
Co-ordination and memory problems	Fatigue and low energy
Denial	Nightmares and sleeplessness

It is important for all Task Force members to remember the following:

- Talk to the survivors and encourage them to express their feelings and needs
- Listen attentively to what the person has to say
- Respond with empathy, understand the concerns of the individual and reassure them that such feelings are expected
- Keep information confidential and respect their trust.
- Be very careful about exploitation of the victims by anti socials.

To

Smt. Sheela Dixit
Honorable Chief Minister
Govt. of Delhi,

Respected Madam,

We the residents of Freedom Fighter Colony, Neh Sarai most humbly wish to draw your kind attention towards the problems we are facing at the moment. We are residing in this colony since 1989-90 and by the time houses have been constructed on more than 70% of the land, (Reference Papers flaged at A).

We purchased the said land from the villagers who did not inform us that the land belonged to Gram Sabha. In due course by 1996 the PATWARI of this area had a survey and in his report he mentioned that the land was transferred to FOREST (RIZ) Deptt.

Now after a period of about twelve years the authorities of Delhi Govt. have started occupying this land constructing boundaries around it, which is totally against the policies declared by the Delhi Govt. It is noted that Delhi Govt. has notified several times through Newspapers that if 70% of land in any colony has been covered by construction work the area will not be occupied for any other purpose. The policy of the Central govt. is also similar which mentions that construction work done before 1993 on any land will not be demolished and the same will be regularized after taking a land cost and developmental charged from the residents. Even as per policies of the Delhi Govt. construction work done before 1996-97 on any piece of land would be regularized after having land cost and developmental charged declared from time to time.

In view of the above it is most humbly requested to your honour to kindly intervene in the matter and save us from unnecessary harassments being imposed as us by authorities of your govt. We may request your honour to kindly get the boundary work stopped immediately and look into the matter most sympathetically after taking into consideration various factors mentioned above.

Thanking you and with profound regard.

Yours faithfully,
